

Report to the Kentucky Library Association Board
Library Support Staff Round Table
Louisville, Kentucky
September 11, 2013

In June, I created a Facebook page for the KLA LSSRT. Library staff can reach the page at <https://www.facebook.com/KLALSSRT>. We're up to 91 likes, but have not had LSSRT members start posting and interacting with page, and haven't had much response to calls for officers. Please continue to encourage support staff at your libraries to visit the page, 'like' it, and participate in posting ideas about libraries on the timeline of the page itself. We have approximately 200 people who see our posts (and about 15-20 who share/like, etc.). I'd like to see that number continue to grow and will be adding some additional content to the page that will help attract more interest (such as more information on the purposes and goals of the round table itself). I have had two colleagues who are library support staff express interest in taking a more active role and continue to seek others so that we can build greater participation in the round table, with the ultimate goal of working toward creating a slate of officers who can begin to work together toward the goals of the round table.

Respectfully Submitted,

Bob Callen, Chair
